DETAILED ACTION

1. This office action is in responsive to the paper filed on January 30th, 2006.

Claims 1 – 5 are presented for examination.

Claims 1 – 5 are rejected.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 3, and 4 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Peter A. Hansen (U.S. Patent No. 6,493,755, and referred to as Hansen hereinafter).

Regarding independent claims 1, 3 and 4,

Hansen teaches,

- A network administration system [network management system, Abstract]
- Automatically [automatically] activating and deactivating [trigger] dynamic rule sets [notification action] in response to receipt of error logs [event log] from network devices and applications [network devices]. [Col. 5, Line 27 – Col. 6, Line 23; see also an action table can store in memory a number of user created notification actions. Within the notification rule, an administrator or user is able to select one of these predefined actions, Col. 6, Lines 7 – 13 and 18 – 23]

- A user interface for manually [administrator] activating and deactivating [requested] rule sets [set of conditions] having defined rule set criteria [Col. 5, Line 66 – Col. 6, Line 3] and for associating rule set activation keys with said rule sets [triggering of the notification rule, Col. 6, Lines 5 – 10] wherein said activation keys associate changes in status of said dynamic rule sets [satisfies the predetermined conditions, Col. 6, Lines 11 – 14]; [Col. 5, Line 27 – Col. 6, Line 23] and
- Program means [application] for receiving said error logs [alarm or error stored in an event log, Col. 5, Lines 50 – 57] and for each of said rule sets [set of conditions] in connection with which activation keys [performed] have been associated [when ... satisfies] and whose criteria have been satisfied [satisfies the predetermined conditions] by said error logs [event log], reading said activation keys and one of either automatically activating or automatically deactivating said dynamic rule sets in accordance with said associated changes in status so as to cause the status of other rule sets to change [notification action will be performed when the set of event conditions representing the present state of the monitored device satisfies the predetermined conditions defined by the notification rule for that device]. [Col. 5, Line 27 – Col. 6, Line 23]

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

The factual inquiries set forth in Graham v. John Deere Co., 383 U.S. 1, 148 USPQ 459 (1966), that are applied for establishing a background for determining obviousness under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) are summarized as follows:

1. Determining the scope and contents of the prior art.
2. Ascertaining the differences between the prior art and the claims at issue.
3. Resolving the level of ordinary skill in the pertinent art.
4. Considering objective evidence present in the application indicating obviousness or nonobviousness.

3. Claims 2 and 5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Hansen, and in view of Andrew B. Hopper et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,367,609, and referred to as Hopper hereinafter).

(Hansen as set forth above generally discloses the basic inventions.)

Regarding Claims 2 and 5,

Hansen teaches

- Retrieving and comparing logs with rule sets [notification action will be performed when the set of event conditions representing the present state of the monitored device satisfies the predetermined conditions defined by the notification rule for that device, Col. 6, Lines 11 – 14]

Hansen does not teach implementing via pseudo-code.

Hopper teaches implemented via pseudo-code [Col. 44, Line 3 – 4] for the purpose of providing a resource.

It would have been obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to modify the teaching of Hansen to include "implementing via pseudo-code" for the purpose of providing a resource.

Response to Amendment

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. Applicants' argument regarding "activating and deactivating dynamic rule sets" is disagreed with. Hansen reference teaches "rule sets" as "notification rules" which applicants agreed with [see page 3, lines 18 – 19]. Hansen reference further teaches "the notification action will be performed when the set of event conditions representing the present state of the monitored device satisfies the predetermined conditions defined by the notification rule for that device [Col. 6, Lines 11 – 14], administrator can make modifications to the rule [Col. 6, Lines 5 – 6], "Within the notification rule, an administrator or user is able to select one of these predefined actions" [Col. 6, Lines 7 – 13 and 18 – 23]. Hansen reference also teaches "a notification rule is defined by a set of event conditions on a particular device ... the type of event that triggers the rule and the severity of those events necessary to trigger the rule" [Col. 4, Line 56 – Col. 5, Line 13], the term "trigger the rule ... necessary" has the meaning of selective action to the rules.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

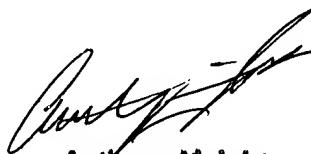

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
